WAST PROFIT
FOR OIL LINE.

Indiana Company Clears Four Million Dollars.

Investment of Over Two Mil-

Natural Counsel Says Many Make Even More.

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.
NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—The Indiana Standard Oil Company, a subsidiary of the Standard Oil Company, made a profit of $4,000,000 in 1907 on a total investment of $2,250,000, according to figures produced by George Ches-brough, controller of the National Pipe Company, who appeared as a witness today in the Federal suit against the company.

Chesbrough testified that the Indiana
Standard Oil Company was a common carrier and engaged only in the transportation of oil.

He also testified that the company,
through K. Kellogg, conducting the government case, sought to show that the Indiana company was making excessive profits and that it maintained a high schedule of tariffs to prevent the sale of oil by independent oil producers.

ing, Ind. have been as guilty as the convicted oil company in accepting concessions from railroads.

Dist. Atty. Sims received a telegram
this morning from William A. Hendon, United States Marshal of New York,
saying that he had personally served
Mr. Moffett at the office of the Standard Oil Company, No. 28 Broadway, New York. The Marshal said in his telegram to Mr. Sims that Moffett completely accepted service, and said he would respond.

The charges are made by Mr. Moffett in a pamphlet issued by the oil company to its employees and stockholders, which pamphlet so aroused the ire of District Judge K. M. Landis as to cause him to subpoena the president before the grand jury to "make good"
with his allegations.

TRUNK MYSTERY.
SUSPECTS MAY BE IN ALASKA.

SEATTLE OFFICERS ON TRAIL OF MEN IN KATALLA.

Later Apply at Employment
Agency for Passage, and Answer
Description of Men Believed to Be Guilty of Murder of Young Mrs.
Covington.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.
SEATTLE, Sept. 26.—Information reached the police authorities today that two men, answering the description of Covington and Burillon, who are suspected of the murder of the former's young wife, whose body was found floating on the Sound in a trunk, applied at an employment office in this city on Monday for stevedore passage to Kattalla, Alaska.

One of the men, it was learned from the employment agent, was signed up under the name of "Moran."

Later in the day the men again appeared at the office and asked that his name be changed to "Eugene Desley-ley." The other man who was signed professed to be a friend of "Desleyley's."

Chief of Police Wapenstien today
sent a cablegram to United States Attorney Britton at Kattalla, asking him to place the pair under arrest immediately upon their arrival.

As a further incentive to the hunt for the murderers the commissioner of King county today offered a reward of $500 for the capture and conviction of the murderers.

It was definitely established today that a trunk identical to that owned by the Covingtons was sent from Seattle to Eagle Harbor. After it was landed on Parker dock it was removed during the night. All trace of the trunk was lost at that place.

The police now believe that Mrs.
Covington was murdered at Kattalla,
and that her body was placed in the trunk and shipped to Eagle Harbor. It is believed that the murderers took the trunk into Puget Sound in a row boat and threw it overboard. The murderers would take the trunk to the bottom of the Sound, made their escape,
but the trunk was immediately washed ashore by the waves.

ARRESTED FOR EMBEZZLEMENT.
New York Man, Who Claims to Be Wealthy, Is Accused of Stealing from St. Louis Company.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.
ST. LOUIS, Sept. 26.—William J.
Scott of New York, who says he is a wealthy mine owner, quarryman and contractor, was arrested here last night on an indictment charging him with having embezzled $100,000 from the St. Louis company. It is alleged Scott made the sale, but did not turn over any money.

MOBILE (Ala.) Sept. 26.—A ferryboat crossing the Tombigbee river at the government works at McCrewe shoals near Jackson, Ala., late today capsized, drowning one white boy and thirteen negroes.

The boy was Leslie Vernulle, 18 years old, residing in Oakdale, a suburb of this city.

The scene of the accident has long been regarded as a very dangerous place for navigators of the river, on account of the rapid and treacherous current and the rocky shoals there.

OKLAHOMA WILL COME INTO THE UNION.

President Finds Constitution of New State in Accordance With Enabling Act, but Says His Private Opinion of It "Isn't Fit for Publication."

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The President
today announced that he would approve the Oklahoma Constitution.

Thus the last doubt is removed and Oklahoma is assured of early Statehood.

As soon as the official copy of the document, accompanied by the certified report of its ratification at the recent election, reaches him, the President will issue a proclamation declaring the new State admitted. The members of Congress and Senators, elected September 17, will take their seats when Congress meets.

The President made the announcement before what was almost a mass meeting of the Washington newspaper correspondents, this afternoon, at the White House. Mr. Roosevelt was in an affable mood. Several impending questions of public interest were discussed by him. Rumors of approaching Cabinet changes were effectively set at rest. The President thinks he has "a very nice Cabinet." The reports in question chiefly affected Secretary Mc-Caffery of the Navy Department and Atty.-Gen. Bonaparte.

FLEET CERTAINLY COMING.
As for the fleet of battleships going to the Pacific there is no longer any question.

"It's going, that's all," was the manner in which the President discussed the subject. The President desires, if possible, to award the contract for coaling the ships to American firms. He will pay more to Americans than to foreigners, but the amount must not be unreasonable. He might pay $200,000 more, certainly not a million. The President explained his decision as to Oklahoma by paraphrasing Lincoln and saying that "if the people like that kind of thing, that's the kind of thing
the people like."

The President smilingly said his personal opinion of the constitution
"wasn't fit for publication." The President made it clear that he has considered the question carefully. He went over a revised copy of the document,
as adopted, with Atty.-Gen. Bonaparte, who was of the opinion that the constitution could not be regarded as unrepublican in form, and that in all essentials it was in harmony with the enabling act of Congress.

TWO IMPORTANT POINTS.
The President esteemed these two points the most important. The Supreme Court has never definitely passed upon the question of what is a republican form of government, as a prescribed for States by the general constitution. A privately-expressed opinion of many jurists, among them
members of the Supreme Court bench,
is that a republican form of government consists merely of a representative government.

So the President concluded that the Oklahoma constitution unquestionably

TRAMPING ACROSS CONTINENT.
Two Young High School Graduates Start from New York to San Francisco Afoot.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.
NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Hatless and coatless, with only ten pounds of clothing and fifteen pounds of luggage, consisting of blankets and food, G. H. Bartholomew of Green Springs, O., and Arthur Simple of Olean, N. Y., started from New York today on a record-breaking tramping tour across the continent to San Francisco.

The two young men, one 19, and the other 20 years old, are high-school graduates of their respective towns and are walking from sea to sea for pleasure and education.

"We expect to make thirty miles a day," said Bartholomew. "and we won't sleep indoors except when we absolutely have to. We will earn our living, which we figure will cost less than $2 a week, by selling postal cards, showing us in our walking outfit."

"COURTESY" STOPS CUT OUT.
John D. Rockefeller and Bishop Potter Among Those Who Have Been Sorely Disappointed.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.
NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—[Exclusive
Dispatch.] No more "courtesy" stops are made on the New York Central.

John D. Rockefeller learned this when he wanted to take a fast train at Tarrytown to go to Chicago to testify before Judge Landis. Bishop Potter, too, wanted a fast train stopped somewhere up along the Hudson so he could get aboard, but he was told that the "courtesy" stop has become a great nuisance on all railroads.

The Public Utilities Bill makes it unlawful for a railroad to stop its trains at other than the regular stopping places, on the ground that the trains are run to serve the public and not to accommodate individuals.

PUGS READY FOR BATTLE.

Both Gans and Jimmy Burns Are Under Weight.

Black Champion Is Still the Top-Heavy Favorite.

Tommy Makes Two Good Bets on His Protege.

It's now up to the going to sound for the Gans-Jimmy Burns fight, and the battle for the lightweight championship will be on tonight at the Pacific Athletic Club.

Both men are below the required weight of 135 pounds, and took light easily yesterday, only the lightest kind of work being done. Gans has been under 135 pounds for several days, and Burns weighed yesterday at Long Beach, and tipped the scales at 133 pounds exactly, so there will be no question about the weight. As the fight was the only point on which there could be any doubt in the minds of the sports, the fight is assured.

Every indication points to a good-sized crowd to see the scrap and nothing else than the battle was talked of yesterday around the sporting resorts. Gans is a top-heavy favorite, as a matter of course, considerable money being bet yesterday, and the day before, at 10 to 1. According to Tommy Burns, he got the best of the odds, and stated last night that he had bet $1000 on Jimmy at odds of 3 to 1, the first bet being $200 to $500, and the second $300 to $400, a broker in the Hellman building taking the bets.

BETTING ON MUTUALS.

There has been considerable betting done in the various resorts, and they are even playing the mutuals, with most of the money on the Gans side. One place on Spring street has plenty of coin on the rounds. The odds are 100 to 75 that Burns stays ten rounds; 150 to 75 that he does not stay fifteen rounds; and 10 to 7 that he does not stay twelve rounds. Any amount of bets and cold bottles have been wagered, and a large number of bets at 12 to 4 on Gans. These odds are due entirely to Gans's cleverness and experience, and the fact that he has beaten many high-class fighters. Burns's best fight was with Honey Maloney in Chicago three years ago, in which he is said to have put the welter champion down twice for the count of nine. There is no question but that he can hit hard enough, and if he does he will surely make Gans feel it. It is admitted that Burns's only chance is to mix with Gans from the start, for he has little or no chance to stand off and box against such science, as the negro has shown.

Gans will have Peter Jackson, Ben Selig, Prof. Koste and Kid North in his corner, while the men behind Jimmy will be Chambers, Tommy Burns, Frank Fields and the Turk. Jeffries, who will referee, and the big fight will come on about 8 o'clock.

NEW PRELIMINARY.

The preliminary scheduled between "Bubbles" Robinson and Kid Webster at 125 pounds, was called off yesterday because Robinson said he "could not make the weight." Some of the sports are inclined to believe that Robinson is afraid of Webster and simply quit.

In place of this, Manager McCarver has secured Joe Smith to box with Webster for six rounds, Smith weighs about 125 pounds, and being a six-round fighter from Philadelphia, is said to keep himself in good condition by boxing six rounds, and being a six-round fighter from Philadelphia, is said to keep himself in good condition by boxing six rounds, and being a six-round fighter from Philadelphia, is said to keep himself in good condition by boxing six rounds.

Tommy Burns put the film of his fight on at a local theater last night for the benefit of a number of his friends, and will be the attraction himself at the same house all of next week.

There is but a small delegation of sports here from San Francisco to see the battle, for the reason that the Squires-Sullivan fight will take place in the northern city tomorrow afternoon. The local betting on that contest is 10 to 4, with Sullivan the favorite.

PLAN NEW CLUBHOUSE.

Hollywood Country Club Purchases Tract of Land for Building and Golf Links.

Additional ground has been acquired by the Hollywood Country Club for the construction of a clubhouse and golf links, and at a meeting of the members of the club, Wednesday night, the new purchases by the trustees were approved.

The club now owns 120 acres, purchased at a cost of $140,000. The land recently bought includes a fine walnut grove. It was sold on condition that the work of improving the property begin within thirty days, which means that the delayed erection of a clubhouse and laying out of a golf links will have to be completed by the end of the month.

Monday night the land company which is backing the enterprise will meet and organize on a permanent basis. The site of the country club will be leased to the club, which has the same membership as the land company, and provision will be made for its acquisition by the country club within three or five years.

Workmen will begin the clearing up of the property at once. It is estimated that this will cost $2000.

OPENING FIELD TRIAL.

Policy Boy Does Excellent Work at British Columbia Trials at Vancouver.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.] VANCOUVER (B. C.) Sept. 26.—The feature of the opening trial of the British Columbia Field Club, yesterday, was the excellent work of Policy Boy, owned by Volney Girl, owned by J. W. Condon of Seattle. This was the Derby for puppies. Policy Boy was pitted against White Wine, out of Palo Alto, owned by C. Gardner Johnson of Vancouver, and was much faster and had better action and worked nicer.

Uncle Fontaine, owned by E. C. Ford of San Francisco, was outclassed by Jack, owned by M. F. Springer, Vancouver. Game was not as plentiful as last year, it being necessary to work several fields, but the opening of the trials was auspicious.

The trials will continue for four days and there are owners present from San Francisco and several points in California, and from Seattle, Tacoma and Chicago.

BERNIN AND KNEPPER FAVORITES IN RACE.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Preparations are complete for the two-day automobile carnival, which will be held at Morris Park Friday and Saturday, under the auspices of the Morris Park Motorbome Club. Many wagers are being placed along automobile rows on the twenty-four-hour race. Bernin, winner of the last twenty-four-hour race at Morris Park, and Knepper, the driver of the Frayer-Miller, are hot favorites, and the betting for these fearless drivers is equal. Both are favorites on a 3 to 1 basis.

According to the wagers which are being placed, the teams stand as follows: Thirty-five-horse-power Renault, Bernin and Lacroix, 5 to 1; fifty-horse-power Frayer-Miller, Harry Knepper, 4 to 1; thirty-eight-horse-power Leizer, Michener and Mulford, 4 to 1; sixty-horse-power Dietrich, George Mack and Thomas McMan, 4 to 1; sixty-horse-power Matheson, James Bryall, 4 to 1; thirty-five-horse-power Plat, Emanuel Cedrino, 4 to 1; forty-horse-power Weich, Fred and Greenwood, 4 to 1; forty-horse-power Losler, Smelser and Linkroun, 5 to 1; fifty-horse-power Matheson, Frank Leacult, 5 to 1; thirty-horse-power Packard, Wallie Owen, 5 to 1; fifty-horse-power Simpler, George Robertson and Al Pool, 5 to 1; thirty-five-horse-power Allen-Kingston, A. Campbell, 5 to 1; twenty-horse-power Rolls-Royce, Burns and Fuller, 5 to 1; thirty-horse-power Stearns, Arthur Warren, Guy Vaughan, 5 to 1; forty-horse-power Italia, Charles Zumbach, 5 to 1; twenty-horse-power Stearns, Arthur Warren, John and Johnson, 5 to 1; forty-horse-power Griffith and McCulla, 6 to 1; forty-horse-power Darraco, Wallace and Munman, 6 to 1; thirty-five-horse-power Studebaker, Holm and Dittmar, 7 to 1.

The fact that there are eight foreign and twelve American cars entered, to be guided by the greatest pilots in the racing game, makes the event an international affair, four nations being represented, United States, France, Italy and England. The big race will start at 8 o'clock tomorrow night, and preceding this at 3 p.m., there will be interesting contests of short distance events.

The list includes a special race for Ford runabouts, a ten-mile contest over the Allen road course for gasoline cars of five and a half-inch bore or less, a five-mile motorcycle race and a New York Taxicab race with two ladies in each cab. There will be record trials and match races by the Hotchkiss, Darraco and other big cars and a twenty-five-mile motordrome championship in which a majority of the twenty-four-hour race will line up at the tape.

Two notable match races have been arranged for the meet. One will bring together Cedrino in E. R. Holland's thirty-five-horse-power Fiat Junior, and George Robertson in E. R. Thomas's 19-horse-power Hotchkiss, the car driven by Elliott Shepard in the last Vanderbilt cup race. The other will be a three-cornered contest with the Darraco Vanderbilt cup winner pitted against Cedrino and Robertson.

An innovation during the twenty-four-hour race will be individual racing colors for contestants, by which the spectators will know the cars.

VALUABLE DOG DIES.

Ted McKenna Loses Trick Animal Which He Had Been Teaching Seven Months.

Ted McKenna, the owner and trainer of the famous dog Ted, lost his trick fox terrier, Gladys, yesterday, of spinal meningitis. McKenna has passed seven months in training the animal, and he was about to go on the vaudeville circuit with his pet. Gladys was valued at $1000. One of the tricks taught Gladys was a double back somersault. To her excessive delight in doing this stunt, McKenna attributes the animal's death, as he believes the far of alighting caused injury to the spine. This is the third dog McKenna has lost (three) the same cause, and he says he will never teach another trick, as he is convinced it is cruelty to animals. He partially blames the public for demanding such tricks from trained dogs.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Just when the game in the bank; just as the spectators were standing up in their seats and getting ready for that rush for the street, the Oaklanders came from behind with a rush that tied the score. Three runs look as big as a mountain when you're behind, but the Commuters made good and sewed up the score so that the team from that city won a third successive victory over Boston today 3 to 2. Score: Boston, 3 hits, 11; errors, 2. Batteries—Wash and Sullivan; Dyerg and Schreck.

LEADERS STILL LEAD. [BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.] BOSTON, Sept. 26.—Encouraged by a large contingent which came east from Detroit to see the deciding game for the American League championship, the team from that city won a third successive victory over Boston today 3 to 2. Score: Detroit, 3 hits, 11; errors, 2. Batteries—Sliver, Mullin and Payne; Burchell-Pitt, Steele, Shaw and Peterson.

SENIATORS HUMPHRED AGAIN. [BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.] WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—St. Louis bunched three hits on Patten in the fourth inning today and scored enough runs to defeat Washington. Powell scored on a hit to three scattered singles, their run resulting from an error of Niles. Score: Washington, 1 hit, 3; errors, 1. St. Louis, 2 hits, 3; errors, 1. Batteries—Horton and Warner; Powell and Spencer.

ONE HIT OFF BEHIND. [BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.] NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—The Cleveland team finished its scheduled game in the city today by shutting out the locals. Elberfeld batted for Chase in the ninth and made the only hit for the home team. Score: Cleveland, 4 hits, 4; errors, 2. New York, 0 hits, 1; errors, 1. Batteries—Barger and Clarke; Chesbro and Thomas.

NATIONAL LEAGUE. HARD BULLDOGGING CONTEST. [BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.] PITTSBURGH, Sept. 26.—In a pretty game today, Pittsburgh beat Boston by the narrow score of 5 to 4. Adams, a new pitcher, was relieved by Cannizz. after the sixth inning. Score: Pittsburgh, 5 hits, 13; errors, 1. Boston, 4 hits, 12; errors, 1. Batteries—Adams, Cannizz and Gibson; Young and Ball.

Berry Goes North. Manager Harry Berry of the Los Angeles ball team, went to San Francisco last night to try and make his hired men win a game from the Oakland team and bring the boys home with him on Monday. For the benefit of the fans it should be stated that there will be no ball here next week until Wednesday, for the good reason that the San Francisco team, which is to play here next week, cannot reach here from Portland until Wednesday morning. Berry is figuring on using some big league players to patch up his crippled team and will try and arrange for this while in San Francisco.

Occidental received its first setback of the football season, yesterday, when it was announced that on account of parental objections the Thomson brothers, Fred and Willie, would have to drop out of the squad. The Freshmen will be considerably weakened thereby.

Fred Thomson was expected to develop into a great fullback this year. He has played two years, and is the strongest man on the Presbyterian campus. In the class games he displayed exceptional pluck, and did the work of several men.

One of the most promising of the new recruits is the Freshman, Hunt. He is Collins of Santa Ana High School. He has played the game for several years, and Gobson is trying him in the quarterback position. If he is not the man for this place, he will be out at his regular position on one of the ends.

Petty put out of the running for the present with a sprained hip, sustained in the Freshman-sophomore game. The Freshman department has a team on the field every night, and a schedule probably will be arranged for it. The team averages 140 pounds, and contains several players of promise.

Manager Crane, who also is captain of the football team, is endeavoring to arrange a game for next Saturday with one of the local high or preparatory schools. A game of some kind will be arranged.

Golden and Edwards are getting the men out and a good start has been made in teaching the new candidates the rudiments of the game. Daily scrimmages will be held, beginning next Monday.

VAILE AS CAPTAIN. CLAREMONT, Sept. 26.—Roland Vaile, Claremont, was chosen to captain the Freshman aggregation in the coming game with the sophs. Vaile has been at Pomona in preparatory school four years. Vaile played varsity ball last season as well as making his "F" in track. He will play quarterback for the Freshies.

Pomona has taken kindly to the suggestion of President Bear of Occidental, that a Freshman game be arranged between the two schools. President Gates of Pomona looks on the proposition favorably, as does Prof. Sumner, head of the Athletic Committee for the college.

Pomona's Freshmen are a husky bunch, and a good game would likely develop. The matter has not yet been put before the students, but the only ground for refusing would be the interference with varsity practice.

ALL FOR NOTHING.

has been changed slightly from that given out at first, as Danny Shady, late of the New York National team, will play short. Harry Leland will be seen at first, and Stan Mitchell will catch. The game will be called at 1:30 o'clock, and the line-up for Saturday's game is given as follows:

THE KIND THAT PAYS

Only the best work lasts—and only the lasting kind pays. ONLY. That's a very homesome word. No "pretty fair"—no "good enough"—to keep it company. If you want only good work (and you do) I don't know of any better way of telling you that that is the only kind I do, than by asking you to ask those people whom I have done work for.

"BUSTED" SPLURGE ENDS IN DISASTER.

Real Estate Man Leaves His Creditors in Lurch.

Take Possession of Office, but Find Little.

His Sister and Children Are Also Missing.

H. M. Couch, a young South Park real estate man, is missing. He left his place of business on September 4, saying he was going on a short hunting trip. He has not returned. There is no suspicion of foul play, and his friends are not alarmed. Couch's financial affairs are chaotic. His creditors have levied on his office furniture, about all he left, and have taken charge of his real estate office at No. 201 South Park avenue.

The place was in charge of Walter Savage, one of the creditors, yesterday. The business will be carried on as usual for Couch was doing well when he left, and had several important deals on hand. He dropped everything and departed. He explained to friends before leaving that he hoped some day to start in business in Seattle. He did not say how far he was going, however, or give any hint of his plans.

Among the business men of the South Side Couch was occupying a position of considerable prominence. He was the brother of a prominent real estate man, the young man made his home at No. 218 East Twenty-fourth street. He was rated as fairly well off, and his credit was good.

CLIMAX COMES.

His ability to get things without paying for them, seems to have turned the head of Couch. He became extravagant, went into society, and entertained with late and expensive suppers and dinners. He was on the wave of prosperity, and his friends were pleased to note his success. Couch controlled a large amount of property in South Park, which he held many options.

His name was unconsciously painted from the big signboard in front of his business office yesterday, as a seeming climax to a downfall. Though he has been absent for more than three weeks, there is no word on the part of his creditors to proceed against Couch until yesterday. Then it was only with a great deal of certainty his assets. When it was found how little he had left his creditors gathered up the remains.

The amount of the missing man's liabilities is unknown. He paid grocery bills, and many small accounts before he left. Other bills, which are larger, he left unpaid.

MAKES A SPLURGE.

Only a few months before his hurried departure, Couch bought a handsome automobile. He previously had a two-wheeled runabout. He had desired expanded he longed for a touring car. He bought a four-cylinder Queen. He spent much of his time driving the big car. His expense bill was large. He paid for all his sundries, and there are no automobile bills unpaid.

His desire to speed along the boulevards and to take long runs added greatly to his expense account. He did not tend as strictly to his business as formerly. His friends began to remark this, and there were fewer big deals pulled off by the once energetic real estate man. Then came the crash.

That he had planned his departure carefully is evidenced by the fact that he had avoided mention of his financial affairs to his closest friends. As creditors became aware of Couch's disappearance, they began to drop out of sight.

STICKS TO RISTER.

During the four years that he lived in Los Angeles he made his home with his sister, Mrs. C. W. Rister. He was the sole support of herself and her two small children. He did not desert them. The woman told her friends that she was going on a short visit, she did not say she was going with her brother, but it is known that she left town with him.

In the neighborhood in which he lived, Couch is well spoken of. He saw to it that his neighbors did not suffer, and he was a good neighbor. He came made to him. There is one man, however, who does not wish any publicity, who forced Couch to accept a loan of $10,000, which Couch seems to have made up his mind to drop out of sight.

Those who have confidence in Couch declare he will try to settle his debts, and to get on somewhere to start over again. Before leaving he sold his big auto for a good price. He had and money enough to take him out of the United States.

AFTER LAND SHARKS.

Los Angeles Realty Board Commends Exposures of Frauds and Points Committee.

Bold schemers and land sharks who victimize poor investors by lying statements as to the value of property offered for sale were grilled yesterday at a luncheon enjoyed at the Hotel Biltmore by members of the Los Angeles Realty Board, the motto of which is "to promote honesty, harmony and dignity in real estate transactions." Based on the recent exposures in The Times of real estate firms (not members of the board, however) that sell practically worthless lots, resolution was adopted praising such publicity and deprecating the offering of such property, as tending to offset the benefit derived from legitimate advertising.

The resolution also calls attention to the fact that the Los Angeles State Realty Federation, of which the local board is a member, provide for the investigation of colonization and immigration schemes, as to which complaints may be made.

Following the same line, the board appointed a committee to investigate specific charges against a Los Angeles agent accused of selling Fresno county lands under gross misrepresentation. Rev. Robert J. Burdette, a guest at the luncheon, entertained the members in his usual delightful way.

LADIES BANQUET VETERANS.

United Spanish War Veterans and friends were given a banquet at Odd Fellows' Hall last night by the Ladies' Auxiliary. Covers were laid for about seventy-five guests. Owing to the absence of Mrs. Mary J. Hamilton, president of the State department, a formal programme was omitted. Mrs. Coleman, president of Stanton Women's Relief Corps, was called upon for an address. She responded with a stirring talk on patriotic topics.

FAR LABRADOR HIS GOLCONDA.

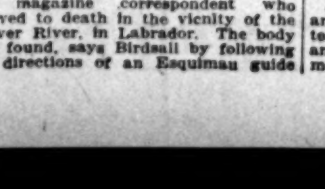

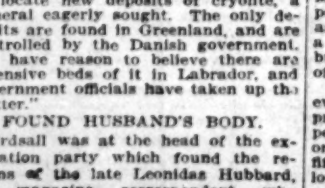

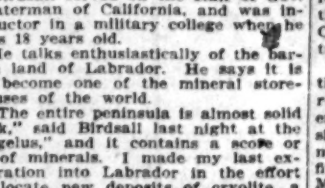

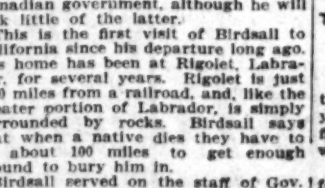

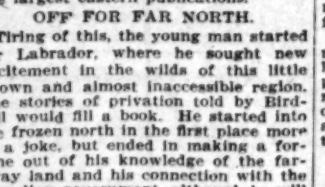

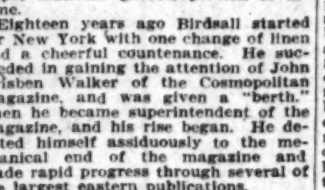

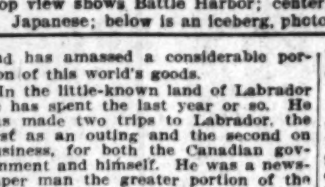

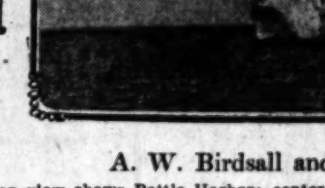

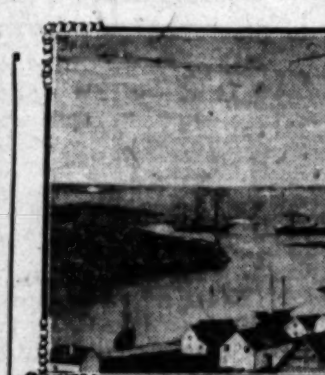

San Diegan Returns Wealthy from Far North.

Left Here With But a Smile Eighteen Years Ago.

Now Plans Long Sea Cruise in His Own Yacht.

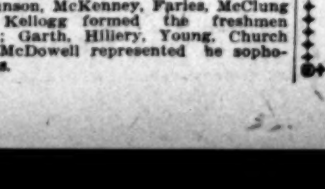

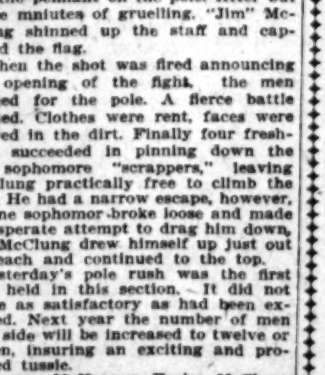

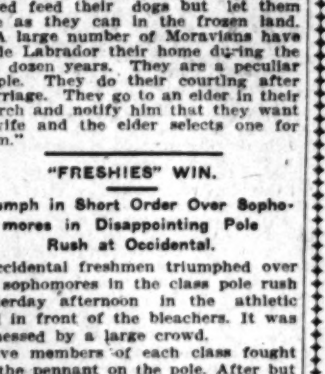

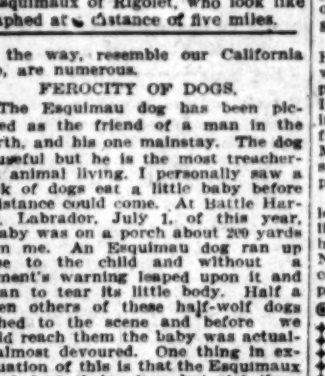

A bronzed young man walked into the lobby of the Angeles yesterday morning and registered as A. W. Birdsell of San Diego, Cal., and Rigolet, Labrador.

Eighteen years ago he left California with nothing but a good physique and a record as a harum-scarum young blood, who bore the distinction of being the first white baby born in San Diego. Yesterday he returned, and has arranged to take his niece, Miss Ethel Van Haren of Berkeley on a tour on his private yacht through the Mediterranean. He is still a young man, but has seen a large part of the world.

who accompanied Hubbard but escaped starvation by boiling his meagre and chewing them.

"Hardships of this nature are now almost unknown," continued Birdsell, "for we use compressed food. The terrible cold of 60 deg. below zero has to be encountered and this is the one danger. Labrador is one of the most bleak and inhospitable lands in the world. It rises like a gigantic rock out of the ocean and would seem to be the last place in the world that human beings would select for their home. But the cod fisheries are excellent and a score of little towns have sprung up. The Esquimaux, who

VEIL IS UP IN JAIL MYSTERY.

"Miss Brown" Proves to Be Prisoner's Fiancee.

Sleuth Finds She Really Is Miss Maud McNeil.

Love Calls on Man Accused of Counterfeiting.

Mystery surrounding the repeated visits of a heavily-veiled young woman to the County Jail was cleared up yesterday when it was learned that she is Maud Estelle McNeil, fiancée of Earl H. Alexander, alias Harry Davenport, a prisoner charged with counterfeiting. The girl has attempted to delude the Federal officers and jailers by asserting that she was a friend of a "Miss Brown," represented as the sweetheart of the prisoner.

At the office of United States Marshal Leo Youngworth, Miss McNeil repeatedly secured passes for "Miss Brown" in order to visit the alleged counterfeiter. Visitors are numerous at the County Jail. Few persons bearing the proper credentials are questioned. But the curiosity of one of the jailers was aroused by the marked attempt at secrecy. Having heard something of Alexander's romantic story, he confronted Miss McNeil and asked her if she were not engaged to the man he saw almost daily behind the wire screen in the visitors' room. Miss McNeil denied her identity and hastened from the building.

SOON TO HAVE WED.

She is believed to be the young woman who accompanied Alexander to Arcadia, where he used bogus coins to "play" the slot machines. Before Alexander's capture he was frequently seen with a young woman, but no one has been found who can positively identify his companion as Miss McNeil, the girl he expected to marry about a week following the date of his arrest, August 17.

The Federal authorities have made no effort to follow up the clue of the counterfeiter's woman friend, as it is believed they have strong evidence against him without bringing her into the case. He has admitted that he operated slot machines in Arcadia with counterfeit coins, but stated he was unaware that it was a violation of Federal laws. He was unable to offer any explanation for the counterfeit coins in his possession, beyond telling a clumsy story about an unknown man who gave him the money. At his room on Temple street, the Secret Service agents found a complete outfit for casting and stamping bogus quarters and halves.

The Deputy United States Marshals have taken a lively interest in the rather pretty young woman who has asked so coaxingly for passes to see Alexander. She told a plausible story about "Miss Brown," who was weeping her eyes out for love of the unfortunate prisoner. Never for a moment did she intimate that she was the sweetheart about whom there was a romantic halo.

SLEUTH LIFTS VEIL.

Curious to establish the identity of the girl who always called in person for the pass that would admit "Miss Brown" to the County Jail, one of the officers did a little investigating on his own account. At the jail he learned that the supposed friend of the mythical "Miss Brown" was a girl named Maud McNeil, who had a long interview with the girl who has told her lover she would wait for him, even if he is given a penitentiary sentence for his admitted crime.

From the information gained by the prisoner, and from admissions of the officers, for the first time the outlines of a pathetic romance have been gleaned.

Miss McNeil and the man they called Harry Davenport, met in Sacramento, where he was employed as a car repairer in the Southern Pacific shops. Later the two met in this city. Patient investigation has traced Davenport from one boarding-house to another. Miss McNeil always had her abode several times. Finally the couple plighted their troth.

Under the name of Davenport, the girl wrote to her father, who lives in Hanford. He asked for the hand of the daughter in marriage. McNeil wrote a rather hysterical letter of consent, and informed his prospective son-in-law that he would oblige.

DAILY STRAW VOTE.

There are about four hundred voters employed in the Pacific Mutual Trust building, Third and Hill streets. A straw vote showed the political trend of the great majority. Some were very busy and could not be seen; others had not thought of any one excepting President Roosevelt; fifteen Republicans were found who said they will vote the Prohibition ticket, if Roosevelt is not nominated, and several others are indifferent as to the nominee, being for Roosevelt only.

The straw vote stood on the selection of a successor to President Roosevelt:

REPUBLICANS.
Taft—210.
Hughes—34.
Fairbanks—4.
Cortelyou—23.
Foraker—19.
La Follette—17.

DEMOCRATS.
Bryan—22.
Johnson—8.

Taft received a majority of about two and a half votes of the entire number cast for Republican possibilities. Of the comparatively few Democrats found, Bryan received a majority of nearly three to one.

Maud Estelle McNeil.

tain a "girl whiter and cleaner than snow, of whom any man of the world would be proud."

WANTED A LICENSE.

Davenport again wrote to McNeil, asking her to secure a marriage license for them at Hanford. He was evidently unaware that licenses are not issued in any such informal manner.

Miss McNeil had made all arrangements to leave the city when the news of her lover's arrest was brought to her. Stunned by the blow, she hurried to the County Jail and there saw her husband-to-be in a cell. Instead of giving way to useless lamentation she has passed the time since her lover's arrest in vain attempts to secure bonds. She is loyal to Davenport, or Alexander as he is now designated. She remains her absolute belief in his innocence and tells the jailers that "Miss Brown" is convinced that the prisoner is a victim of circumstances.

ACRIMONIOUS.

MAY COMPLAIN OF PRESCOTT.

IMPERIAL FOLKS SAY REGISTER TALKS TOO MUCH.

Accusations of "Abusive and Discourteous Treatment," and Other Things Possibly Going to Secretary Garfield—Local Land Official Says He Invites Investigation.

As the result of accusations against Register Frank C. Prescott of the United States Land Office in Los Angeles, a formal complaint may be made to James R. Garfield, Secretary of the Interior, concerning the Register's attitude in connection with the investigation of alleged land frauds in the Imperial Valley.

I. W. Gleason of Riverside, president of Imperial Valley Water Company No. 1, is said to be one of the instigators of the charges. The Register, correspondent at Riverside, Gleason denied the preferring of any formal complaint. He stated, however, that he had had a long interview with O. Moore, a special agent of the General Land Office at Washington, in which Gleason had made known the complaints of many persons concerning alleged discourteous treatment accorded them while attempting to transact business at the local office.

Gleason said he had also called to Mr. Moore's attention the grave injury done to the people and the interests of the Imperial Valley by Prescott's seeming eagerness to make public wholesale charges of land frauds before such cases had been taken into court or formal charges were preferred against supposedly guilty individuals. This procedure on the part of the Register, Gleason has seriously injured the innocent as well as the guilty, and has thrown a cloud upon all land titles, resulting in the serious hampering of the development of the valley.

Although Gleason was reluctant to speak of the complaints against Prescott, it is learned from other sources that a number of prominent residents of the Imperial Valley are preparing to take the matter up with Secretary Garfield.

Gen. Prescott said last night that he courted the strictest investigation of his administration.

"I invite an investigation of this office, to which I was appointed by President Roosevelt," he said. "I have also been making an investigation of various matters which have arisen during my connection with the land office. This includes all matters in which Mr. Gleason is connected. I know of no charges received by Mr. Moore from Gleason, but I have a recollection of an interview with said Gleason in the presence of Mr. Moore, when certain propositions were fully gone into. I am not the party to fear the result of any investigation."

Special Agent Moore has been in Los Angeles for several days. He could not be located last night to confirm the report of charges against Register Prescott.

The following account of Gleason's connection with the matter was sent out last night by the correspondent of the Associated Press at Riverside:

"A representative of the Associated Press interviewed I. W. Gleason, president of Imperial Valley Water Company No. 1, this afternoon in regard to the resignation of the Register, Frank C. Prescott, of the Los Angeles Land Office, alleging improper conduct in handling certain cases. Gleason said that he had preferred charges against Prescott, but that he had not yet received a decision from the Secretary of the Interior."

Gleason also declared that Prescott was making a "play to the gallery" by posing as a prosecutor of land grabbers and has made absurd and unfounded charges in the papers without advising himself as to facts.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

More than 300 Adventists have signed a petition protesting to the Council against the passage of any "blue laws" aiming to close theaters and places of amusement on the "Sabbath Sunday."

Deputy City Attorney Emmet Wilson is the seventh member of the City Attorney's staff to secure marriage licenses within eighteen months.

The Board of Public Works warned the management of the Lyric Theater yesterday to provide additional exits at once.

James Whyte Evans, who has become a storm center for legal action, was sued for $57,000 by a former wife, Mrs. Gertrude Evans.

Odd testimony was given yesterday in a suit brought to recover possession of a lot in Wilmington, which Collins and others are charged with securing by fraud from aged and ignorant Mrs. Robinson.

City Attorney W. H. Anderson, Mayor Dana Burke and Trustee G. M. Jones, of Ocean Park, objecting to being characterized as "blue laws" brought suit against D. G. Holt and Abbot Kinney for $50,000 each.

Mrs. Alice Mendall Carson was granted a decree of divorce from C. J. R. Carson on the ground of failure to provide.

The tearful appeal of Mrs. Julia B. Lawrence in behalf of her son, Earl, secured his release in Police Court from a charge of obtaining goods under false pretenses.

AT THE CITY HALL.

NO BLUE LAWS, SAY ADVENTISTS.

BIG PROTEST AGAINST SUNDAY THEATER CLOSING.

Seventh Day Worshipers Sign Themselves as Opposed to Legislation Conferring on Any Day Religious Significance—Sunday Baseball Tabooed, Too.

The first petition concerning Sunday theater closing was filed with the City Clerk yesterday. It contains the signatures of 350 citizens, who protest against any action taken in the interest of one religious sect against another. The signers are mostly Seventh Day Adventists.

From the tone of the petition it is apparent that the Adventists feel that a theater closing ordinance would be in the nature of discrimination in favor of a religious institution for one class of citizens. The number of signatures secured shows that the Adventists have been considerably "riled" over the suggestion that the Council might forbid their attending theater on the Sabbath.

While the petitions which doubtless will be presented to your notice report to have been drawn for the protection of actors and employees of playhouses and theaters, may the petitioners, "there is a principle involved in the issue far transcending the interests of any guild or class of citizens, and it is upon that principle that the petitioners stand."

The Adventists allege that they are residents and citizens of Los Angeles, and that "we are conscientiously observing the seventh day of the week as Sabbath, in accordance with the Fourth Commandment of the Decalogue."

Recently a whole delegation of theatrical people, ranging from comedians to prima donnas, called at a meeting of the Council to protest against any legislation that would tend to close theaters on Sunday. These say they would receive no benefits, but that they would suffer financial loss.

None of the so-called agitation against Sunday theater closing has reached the City Hall, and Councilmen say they are not even considering an ordinance for Sunday closing.

During the present week a rumor has been in circulation to the effect that an attempt is to be made to secure legislation against Sunday baseball.

CREW GOES CALLING.

USE ENGINE FOR CARRIAGE. Fire Commissioner Schwann asked his fellow-commissioners yesterday to investigate a report that has come to him of a certain West Side engine company making an early morning call and using the fire engine for a carriage.

Schwann said that he has information to the effect that one of the suburban engines pulled up before the house of a member of a west side crew Tuesday morning and waited until the fireman was ready to go to his office, the engine house; finally he came forth and was driven away in state. Commissioner Schwann wanted to register his protest against such conduct, the fire department serving as coachmen and using the fire engines for coaches.

The fire department had apparently been warned that the protest was coming, and the assistant chief was ready with an explanation. He said that the engineer of the house in question is away on his annual vacation; an alarm of fire was turned in while the relief engineer was at his breakfast.

He says that the engine company drove past the house of the assistant engineer, not a block off the direct route to the fire; that he hastened to his place on the engine and the company galloped away without losing more than a minute of time—all to respond to a false alarm.

During the discussion extreme care was evinced on both sides lest the number of the offending company should be mentioned. After the session Commissioner Schwann expressed himself as satisfied with the explanation; he said there will be no further investigation.

SEWAGE NOT WANTED. TOO MUCH IRRIGATION. Joseph Mesmer has failed utterly to appreciate the favor the administration has attempted to confer on him by delivering to him free a large quantity of sewage to irrigate and enrich his Balboa ranch.

A number of ranch owners between Los Angeles and the sea have been paying the city money for years in return for sewage. Recently the city delivered on the Mesmer ranch a whole lakeful of exceptionally rich sewer water, and he has been unfeeling enough to tell the Board of Public Works to take it away or he will present a bill for storage.

A break in the old outfall occasioned the sudden liberty of the board toward the Mesmer ranch. A portion of the land was flooded, and Mesmer says, some growing crops were ruined.

Yesterday he notified the Board of Public Works that he has been damaged to the amount of $1000; he would like for the city to settle.

Members of the board say that within the next sixty days sewage will be flowing through the new outfall to the sea, and the trouble with the ranchers over purged sewers will be a thing of the past. A number of claims for damages against the city for destruction wrought by sewage are pending; these will be considered as soon as the new outfall is finished.

Attorneys representing some of the ranchers say that it will cost the city at least $20,000 to settle these damage claims.

BOARD INSISTENT.

MUST PROVIDE EXITS. The Board of Public Works sent a communication to H. W. Givatt, manager of the Lyric Theater, yesterday warning him that he must provide additional exits for his theater at once or complaints will issue charging him with violating the building ordinance.

Givatt is the last of a number of theater managers to receive notices that they must alter their arrangements for emptying their houses in case of fire or stampede. Los Angeles has been peculiarly fortunate in that there have never been a disastrous fire in a place of public amusement or worship. Many theater managers are willing to take long chances as to the safety of their patrons, but the Board of Public Works is determined that there shall not be a failure to enforce the building ordinance because there have been no horrors in the past.

Attorneys representing some of the ranchers say that it will cost the city at least $20,000 to settle these damage claims.

SCHOOL FOR BENEDICTS.

CITY ATTORNEY POPULAR. The City Attorney's office on the third floor of the municipal building is beginning to be regarded as a school for Benedict. The latest to join the class is Deputy City Attorney Emmet Wilson, who yesterday brought suit to claim a bride in New York. The wedding is scheduled to take place at Putnam, N. Y., on October 1.

Wilson is the seventh member of the City Attorney's staff to secure a marriage license. All the weddings have taken place within a radius of eighteen months.

Mr. Wilson's wedding is the closing chapter of a pretty romance which began when the Board of Education secured Mrs. Grace Humphrey of Putnam, N. Y., for musical instructor at the Polytechnic High School. Wilson was a member of the Board of Education when the pretty widow performed for the board to show her musical accomplishments, she sang better than the known, for her voice awoke an echo in the heart of the susceptible junior member of the board.

After that it was simply the old, old story, with a setting of roses and sunshine. Mr. Wilson expects to return here with his bride about November 1.

City Attorney Emmet Wilson says the romance all the while the conventional ending, "they lived happily ever after," and that he hasn't a bachelor left in his office. The last chance for a romance clings to a demure widow on his staff of stenographers.

CITY HALL NOTES.

Chairman Anderson of the Board of Public Works returned to the city yesterday from a business trip to San Francisco. He went north to discuss with officials of the Southern Pacific Company proposed freight rates along the line of the Owens River aqueduct.

On South Alameda street combined yesterday and protested out a petition of the Union Ice Company for permission to build a new ice house at No. 60 South Alameda. It appears that the ice company recently protested against the application of another owner to locate a new ice house in the same neighborhood.

Councilman Blanchard intimated yesterday that the six months' grace which he agreed to extend to cigarette dealers has about expired; he may ask the Council to take affirmative action on his proposed anti-cigarette ordinance.

A delegation of flower vendors called on the Mayor yesterday to urge that he do not encourage the Council to pass an ordinance forbidding them to sell their wares from the sidewalk.

City Forester Harper reported to residents on Riverside street yesterday that their petitions to have shade trees came too late. The residents have discovered that grading contractors are about to cut down a row of magnificent pepper and gravel trees, planted twenty years ago. The City Forester has found that a contract has been let providing for the destruction of these trees; the work is commenced under Vrooman Act proceedings, and the city is powerless now to interfere.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

EVANS IS SUED FOR BIG SUM.

PROMOTER'S EARLY WIFE ASKS SHARE OF WEALTH.

Accuses Man Now Storm Center in Various Court Actions of Failing to Deliver Fifty-seven Thousand Dollars, Claimed to Be Due Her Under Agreement Upon Divorce.

James Whyte Evans, whose sensational charges of extortion against Dr. J. B. Owens will be heard at the preliminary examination today in Justice Selph's court, is made defendant in a suit filed yesterday in the Superior Court by a former wife, Mrs. Gertrude Evans.

This latest action against the reputed millionaire is brought to recover the considerable sum of $57,000, which Evans is charged with holding illegally by means of false representations regarding the outcome of his venture in the Pan-American Railroad in Mexico.

For some time previous August 2, 1931, the plaintiff, Gertrude Evans, was the legal wife of James Whyte Evans, but on that date a decree of divorce was entered, the complaint relates. No division of the community property was effected at that time, it is stated, but an agreement was entered into by which the joint ownership of the property was to be continued until the Pan-American stock should be sold.

The claim is made that Evans's interest in the Mexican railroad was secured by means of capital jointly contributed by plaintiff and defendant in the present action, and each had equal claim, except that Mrs. Evans was to receive $10,000 additional on the sale of the stock.

Evans, so the complaint avers, has continuously maintained that the railroad stock has never been sold, but the plaintiff professes to have satisfactory information that a sale has been made for $100,000, and that Evans's denial of this fact is false.

Mrs. Evans lays claim to one-half of the sum the stock is supposed to have been sold for, and the additional $10,000 promised, and alleges that no part of the $60,000 due her has been paid, except small sums sent her from time to time by her former husband, amounting to not more than $200.

Subtracting this estimated amount from the sum alleged to be due her, the plaintiff asks the court to order the defendant to pay her $37,000.

The story of this earlier marriage of James Whyte Evans is a romantic one, though devoid of the sensational elements which characterized the later marriage to Mrs. Dr. J. B. Owens, the daughter of City Treasurer C. H. Hance. Mrs. Gertrude Evans was not yet 18 years of age when the adventurous promoter married her. Her small private fortune, it is said, was devoted by her to the furtherance of her husband's various schemes.

But the community of interest so given did not prove strong enough to cement the bonds which united the pair.

In late years, since the marriage of Evans to the former wife of the man accused of hoodluming him, unmercifully for years, Mrs. Gertrude Evans has lived in San Francisco, making her own living.

Yesterday to satisfy himself before granting the decree.

In his defense against the other charges brought against him, Carson declared that his association with women of shady reputation had been purely for business purposes, and not because he found pleasure in meeting them.

"They were my customers," he said. "I sold diamonds to them, and while I was selling tickets at the race track they would come up and talk to me. I could not help that."

In regard to the charge that he had shown his daughter in a picture which his daughter's testimony Wednesday in part refuted, he said the pictures he showed to men in the store were studies of South Sea Islanders and Africans. He spoke with scorn of his wife's characterization of them as "obscene."

Carson admitted his wife's action to meddle in his business was unadvisable, but he did not admit that he had been so neglectful of her as the testimony Wednesday seemed to show.

He said he felt sure his wife would never live with him again, since she had come to feel as she did, and was willing she should have a divorce, but he would not let it go by default.

When the evidence was all in, the judge decided that the most just grounds on which to grant the decree was the ill-treatment and seemingly unsanitary apartments provided for Mrs. Carson and her daughter.

"A woman might reasonably object to that," he said.

Mr. and Mrs. Carson are to try to agree on a partition of the property, and if they should fail to do so, the court will make an appointment.

BRITISHES MISCELLANEOUS.

SQUATTERS' WAR. C. L. Radcliff, a squatter on Wilmington tide land, yesterday was fined $25 by Justice Stephens for battery. He took appeal to the Superior Court. The complaining witness was Mrs. A. V. Annabel, who also claims a squatter's right to the house where the Radcliff lives.

The testimony showed that Mrs. Annabel had sought to force an entrance Radcliff said he only held the door against her, holding her to keep her from falling into the water, and while the house existed, while his wife went for a policeman. Mrs. Annabel, however, declared that Radcliff held her down on the floor till the officer came and arrested her.

DAMAGES ASKED. Annie S. Fuser yesterday filed suit in the Superior Court for $1000 against the Los Angeles Railway Company for injuries alleged to have been received by falling from a car by its sudden starting while she was alighting. This is one of many suits of the kind which have appeared in the past few months. One which came to trial was successful.

MOTHER'S PLEA SAVES HER SON.

YOUTH IN EXTREME DIFFICULTY FREED FOR HER SAKE.

Prosecutor Says Conviction of Earl Lawrence on Serious Charge Would Kill Parent, Who Made Good the Loss He's Accused of Causing, and the Case is Dropped.

The devotion of Mrs. Julia B. Lawrence of No. 144 West Eleventh street to her son, Earl Lawrence, secured the dismissal yesterday of a complaint charging the young man with obtaining goods under false pretenses.

Following the arrest of her boy by Detective Chapman and Home, late Wednesday night, Mrs. Lawrence remained at the Police Station until after midnight trying to secure the young man's release on bail. Finally she paid a visit to Justice Chamber at his home and secured the release on bond.

Yesterday morning, weary with sorrow, she visited Asst. Dist. Atty. McComas and Prosecuting Attorney L. A. Brown at the Police Station, in which the attorneys, the mother and her son were in attendance.

When the doors were opened the mother left, accompanied by Earl. Both were crying.

"I just couldn't stand her appeal," remarked Attorney McComas. "If I had sent that boy to the penitentiary that mother would have never believed other than that she had been the direct cause of his going there. And when a woman is well along in years she cannot stand that sort of thing."

Mrs. Lawrence, on the ground that she was always afraid of the old mother for a thing of that kind."

Young Lawrence was arrested on a warrant sworn to by members of the firm of Broome & Vasey, jewelers, at Fourth street and South Broadway.

The complaining witness alleged that Lawrence bought a ring, valued at $175, and ordered it charged to J. B. Lawrence, asserting this was his name. Mrs. J. B. Lawrence is registered in the Mercantile Directory as J. B. Lawrence. The jeweler looked at the financial standing as set forth in the directory and charged the ring.

Mrs. Lawrence, on the ground that she had never heard of the ring, refused to pay and the warrant for her son's arrest was issued.

Autoists Exceed Limit.

Five automobile drivers, each with an excuse better than the other, were fined in Police Court yesterday on charges of violating the speed limit.

H. A. Lord, F. F. Schaaf, C. A. Cooke, N. V. Lawrence, and J. H. Stugo were the men captured by Motorville Officers Coe and Humphrey and they were fined amounts ranging from $5 to $20.

Local Complaints.

Principle Involved Is Very Important.

Commissioner Lane, chairman of the Commerce Commission, held a meeting this morning by appointment to consider a little case regarding alleged excessive rate charges preferred by the Pacific Purchasing Company, a business organization which makes wholesale purchases for a number of the big furniture stores in Los Angeles.

Commissioner Lane explained that the complaint had to do with a case, so far as the sum of money concerned, the principle involved is an exceedingly important one. This case the company ordered a refund of furniture from Kenosha, Wis., capable of being carried in one freight car. But the roads refused to take the furniture in two small cars and then presented a freight bill for two cars of furniture.

The company protested, and later presented to the Interstate Commerce Commission, with the result that Commissioner Lane has undertaken to straighten the matter out, with a number of other complaints received from shippers on the coast.

As he arrived and registered at the Alexandria Hotel yesterday morning Lane hastened to the appellate Division of the Supreme court, where the evidence of the case was submitted. The attorneys for the shippers and the company were present to submit the case on briefs, the matter was taken under advisement.

VERY IMPORTANT.

Similar to this is arising in the United States, but this is the first time the principle involved has been before the commission, and it is a very important one," said Commissioner Lane at the Alexandria Hotel yesterday morning. "In a nutshell, the Pacific Purchasing Company ordered one large car of two small ones, and the railroad refused to take more than one car. The Pacific Purchasing Company said the railroad should bear the expense in rates between the one and the two small cars, and the railroad refused to do so. This is a question of equipment, and the chairman of the commission, 'There is an immense complaint in California, and west, and not the West alone, regarding shipments. But in this section a great part of the shipments are of goods, and are extremely important.'"

For instance, the Northern Pacific was unable to take up more than one of the lumber shipments of this year, while the B. & N. refuses its inability to take all the lumber shipments offered it. In the history of the world, many railroads have more cars in their yards than they have to ship to equip their lines."

YET NOT ENOUGH.

Commissioner Lane added that the Pacific has 6000 new cars, and the Northern Pacific 10,000, and yet he thinks that the equipment ought to hold out for a time. "Unless Southern comes in with more cars, the situation is a very serious one," he said.

He can judge how much a small rate schedule counts, when he takes this fact into consideration. The rate made by the railroad was $1.25 for 100 pounds, and was reduced to $1.15 for 100 pounds, a difference of $1.00 in cash.

Commissioner Lane manifests great interest in the fruit shipments from California and speaks with the need of the need of the need of refrigerator cars to handle the fruit. He said that the railroad moved to the East, speaking of the matter he said yesterday that the railroad will have to increase the number of refrigerator cars steadily to keep an estimate of the need of the need of the need of refrigerator cars to handle the fruit.

The commissioner stated that he had intended to stay long, but that he had to depend upon word to be returned from Arizona, probably today.

Merchants have a grievance against the manner in which smaller compartments or booths. These booths will be rented to manufacturers of machinery and to supply houses at a figure just large enough to enable the chamber to maintain the establishment properly, with attendants, telephone service, and other conveniences for the handling of the correspondence of visitors, as well as a representative collection of ores from the different mines of the Southwest.

The directors endorsed and accepted the work of the committee appointed to formulate plans to bring to Los Angeles the 1908 convention of the American Mining Congress, which will meet this November at Joplin, Mo. If this city is fortunate enough to get the convention for next year, it will mean a miners' week in Los Angeles.

TROUBLE IN ARIZONA.

When I return to Washington I am compelled to go to Arizona, and I have made inquiries to expect an answer tonight or tomorrow. It is possible, I may be able to get the matter straightened out, but if not, I will have to leave it to the committee.

Commissioner Lane explained how in all of these debatable cases he is only made by the full commission after considerable evidence has been presented. The individual report of the commissioner who has personally investigated the case, and the hearing of the committee, and the business transacted by the committee, have as much business as the West.

his mind that possibly 2000 cords of rough wood was used for stakes and hazarded a guess of "about $12,000."

"It is over $2,000,000. That will give you an idea of the value of the lumber shipments," said the commissioner.

SELLING.
TWO BUILDINGS CHANGE HANDS.
FLAT AND APARTMENT HOUSE ARE PURCHASED.

Spirited Bidding at First Real Estate Auction—Upland Orange and Lemon Grove Brings Seventeen Thousand Dollars for Twenty Acres. Deals in the City and Outside.

Myron T. Holcombe has sold to a local investor the two-story, four-flat building, No. 614 South Bonnie Brae street, for $17,000. The property rents for a fair sum, paying about 10 per cent. on the investment per year. The sale was made through H. S. Cook of W. B. Merwin & Co. The lot is 5x150 feet.

W. D. Campbell has sold the Edinburg apartment-house at No. 324 Mallard street, to J. Jassaud, for a reported consideration of $15,000. The lot is 40x140 feet, and is improved with a two-story, twenty-eight-room house. The Realty Auction Exchange held its first semi-monthly sale in the German building yesterday at noon. Nineteen pieces of real estate, comprising bungalows, houses and residence lots, were offered and ten were sold. A large crowd gathered, and the bidding was quite spirited on some of the properties.

Mr. Saunders, one of the promoters, expressed himself pleased with the outcome of the first auction. The next auction will be held in about two weeks.

Following is a list of the properties sold and the prices obtained: W. L. Lunderbach handled the sale satisfactorily to both buyers and sellers: A lot on the west line of Van Buren Place, 175 feet south of Thirtieth street, 50x132.35 feet, brought $1700. A lot on the southwest corner of Thirtieth street and Budington avenue, 75x142.3 feet, was sold for $2500. A lot on the west line of West Fortieth street, between Vermont avenue and Remick street, was sold for $1475. The northeast corner of Thirtieth street and Budington avenue, improved with a six-room bungalow, was sold for $4000. The house and lot at No. 2041 La Salle street, sold for $2550. The house and lot at No. 3234 South Hope street, lot 50x150 feet to an alley, was sold for $4500, subject to confirmation of the Probate Court. A lot on the west line of Raymond avenue, 71.58 feet, south of West Twenty-ninth street, was sold for $1750.

CHAMBER OF MINES.

Permanent Display of Mining Machinery—Convention of Congress to Be Invited.

What promises to be one of the most important moves ever undertaken here in the interests of the mining business, is a plan discussed at a session yesterday afternoon of the directorate of the Chamber of Mines. One of the greatest difficulties of the business houses here having ponderous machinery for mining purposes, as well as of those concerns having smaller devices and supplies of various kinds that are used at the mines and in the camps, has been to bring their wares properly to the notice of mining men visiting Los Angeles. These houses could increase their business in Nevada, Arizona, Utah and Old Mexico many times if they had their goods displayed to advantage in a convenient and attractive place that would extend invitations to visitors from these mining regions.

TRUSTEE SALE
THE SHOE STOCK OF
The Bon Marche
LeSage Brothers Co.
430, 432, 434 BROADWAY
TO SATISFY CREDITORS

This Trustee Sale of the Bon Marche Shoe Stock opened yesterday. A crowd was expected—but we were totally unprepared to handle such an enormous rush; for which we apologize. Things are in much better shape today—with plenty of extra salespeople to see to customers' wants.

It is estimated that there were upwards of twenty thousand visitors in attendance yesterday, and it is confidently expected that this record will be broken today.

Orders from the Trustee are to "sell"—regardless of costs or consequences. Fifty thousand dollars worth of high grade footwear must be converted into cash just as quick as the law will allow. No stone is being left unturned.

Prices Are Shamefully Reduced

It is certain that Los Angeles shoe buyers never before had an opportunity of owning high grade footwear at prices quoted in this sale. It may be ten years before another such chance comes along—it may never occur again.

Many people are laying in a year's supply of footwear for the whole family. One woman bought sixteen pairs yesterday: a man, with his two sons, bought twenty-one pairs. At this rate the sale cannot last very long. It will pay you to get here today, or not later than tomorrow.

The Sale is Being Held in the Bon Marche Building, on the East Side of Broadway, Between 4th and 5th Sts.

Penitence

The Octopus seems to be suffering from a high fever.

There are still a few Territories left for the Rough Riders to govern.

Withal, "Big Jim" Gallagher did not forget to keep a few pennies for himself.

The climax will not be reached in this country until salaries begin to go up.

Let Oklahoma have her Constitution. It will hurt her worse than it will hurt anybody else.

Whom did Franklin K. Lane expect to scare by dropping into Los Angeles unannounced.

As a liar Mr. Loneragan seems to have been rather more prolific than accomplished.

When the race track opens at Arcadia the touts should be compelled to reside there.

Self-abnegator Ryan is not yet Mayor of San Francisco. His throne is still in his mind.

The San Francisco man who isn't now followed by a sleuth probably doesn't amount to much.

If the union laborers recapture San Francisco the city's guardian angel may well prepare to weep.

The thing to do with the red-light district is to place it where even those who are looking for it can't find it.

Imagine the Society for the Suppression of Unnecessary Noises trying to make itself heard in San Francisco.

If we understand the Mayor correctly, it is his intention to fence off New High Street especially for high rollers.

The imaginary line that separates Venice from Ocean Park is undergoing the process of being painted red.

"Many men of many mines," as the fellow said, after he had been sitting around the lobbies of the Los Angeles hotels.

"What are the wild waves saying?" Don't know, but they are pretty wild, all right, down around Venice and Ocean Park.

The leading occupations of San Francisco people at the present time appear to be that of sleuths, bodyguards and jury takers.

After awhile conditions are bound to change. It will be the detectives who will hire the lawyers. The sleuth's is by far the superior profession.

It will pay for all hands and the cook to keep a close watch on Pinhead McCarthy. He has the daring of a skunk and the cunning of a rat.

Now comes a detective named Flynn in the East who is doing for justice there what William J. Burns is doing in the West. The detective's the thing.

The strange case of a Chinaman who has been arrested for dishonesty is reported from an up-State town. But then the dispatch was careful to add that he is an "Americanized" Chinaman.

The worst of it is that the youth of San Francisco will think that Loneragan, Gallagher and the other yellow dogs did well, and were not punished for it.

If, at a given moment, every man in San Francisco were asked to empty his pockets, the streets and the floors of buildings would be littered with "guns."

It is to be hoped that the dead can sometimes come to life again. Think of the Standard Oil's former competitors sitting around and listening to what's going on now.

Evidently the Mississippi is very proud of the fact that the President is about to make it a visit. Reports are that the old river is already considerably swelled up.

Nobody is interviewing William J. Burns; neither is he endeavoring to break into the conversation. But he is the man who makes the wheels go around, just the same.

Franklin K. Lane does well not to attempt to hold hearings in San Francisco. All the available rooms in that unfortunate town are occupied by lawyers and judges, already.

In looking for violations of trade regulations, the Interstate Commerce Commission sends its men to the centers of trade. That's why Mr. Lane is so frequently sent to Los Angeles.

Pretty soon the wandering hobo, the porch climber, the footpad and the sandbag man will be leaving their haunts in the East to make the winter sojourn in California. Let's see what Chief Kern will be able to do with them.

There's no use talking, when the Standard Oil Company does anything it does it right. When it offers a bribe it makes it a half million at least. And there are not many men in the world who can be insulted by an offer of that much money.

"THE BETTER CITY."

Rev. Dana W. Bartlett has published a little book entitled "The Better City" which deserves a reading by all who have the welfare of Los Angeles at heart. It is particularly commended to the attention of professional reformers of all classes.

Mr. Bartlett is a true reformer. His is the only scheme of reform that will ever prove permanently efficacious. He is an earnest reformer, for he gives his life to the work. His work is a self-sacrifice, not a scheme to foist himself upon the community in some way for his own advancement, either as secretary of some organization started by himself, at a big salary, or as a candidate for some office and emoluments.

Mr. Bartlett could easily advance his personal interests by ceasing to be a reformer and devoting his time and attention directly to his personal interests.

Again, Mr. Bartlett is a practical reformer. He is a clergyman, but his work calls for no such criticism as that of the Methodist bishop who speaks of many preachers holding up to the world a "silly religion."

His idea is that the kingdom of God is a present institution existing in this world and that its sphere of action is in the human heart. He believes that real religion "has the promise of the life that now is" and that its aim is to uplift men and women and children in all that belongs to daily life.

He thinks Christianity means more intelligence in the minds of all men. It means better houses for the poorer members of society to live in. It means more of the comforts, decencies and conveniences of life. It means clean bodies, clean clothes, clean rooms, clean minds and clean hearts.

Here is his plan for the better city. He has no fads, no fancies, no new-fangled methods, no imported notions from two-by-nine towns in Europe, Asia or Africa, or the isles of the sea. He knows that men cannot be made moral, honest, truthful, by act of Congress, by legislative enactment, or by city ordinance. He goes straight to the hearts and consciences of men. He seeks to plant there a seed which will forever bear fruit in the way of fair play, upright dealing, helpfulness between man and man. If it be a landlord, he pleads for better tenements for the poorer tenants. If it be a poor tenant, he labors for a deeper interest in the welfare of the family. If it be a mother, he seeks to create a more tender affection for her offspring. If it be a boy or a girl, he would make him or her more docile and obedient at home, more diligent at school or at some occupation.

Here is the simple, old-fashioned way of reform which for thousands of years has been working in human society as leaven in the lump of dough, and which in each generation has brought more truth, more honesty, more kindness, more fair play, more sweetness of disposition, more decency of life into the world. It has gradually lifted men and women to higher planes of living and has made the child in a general way a better man or woman than his father or mother. It has gradually elevated woman from the position of a slave to one of equality in a way with her husband, and to a place of greater honor with good men than men themselves accord each other. It has multiplied schools and colleges and made the light of good learning a common heritage of all men. It has broken the shackles from the wrists of millions of slaves and set them free. It has purified the streams of life at their fountain-heads. It has ameliorated the horrors of savage warfare and made penal servitude a matter of repression of vice rather than of vindictive punishment.

It is because this old leaven of righteousness works more powerfully as a rule in the hearts of this community than elsewhere that Los Angeles is already "The Better City" that it is. It is better today than it was ten years ago. It is better than most other cities of this day, at home or abroad, and it is very much better than cities were in past years. This is not an ideal city yet. As more of the Dana Bartlett leaven is set to work in our hearts this better and better city will be evolved until we shall have the best city. This evolution will come from such reformers as Bartlett. He is no busybody in other men's affairs. He has no big stick with which to make men good. He does not propose to stand society on its head in a jiffy by some act of coercive reform. To get a forest he does not set a lot of dead posts in the ground. He plants seeds which grow and spread abroad a living sea of foliage year by year, and will be vigorous three hundred years hence.

To make "The Better City," to evolve "The Best City," possible give us our Francis Murphy or our Dana Bartlett with their old-fashioned gospel of peace to man, self-subjugation and reformation, rather than a whole army of noisy, intermeddling busybodies, who make a living or seek political preferment from their campaign in behalf of some exploded, discarded, discredited schemes which attack vices from the outside and let the heart go on rotting in its pollution.

PUT IT TO THE TEST!

In her business relations, in her industrial activity, in her political movements and in her municipal government the Nemesis of San Francisco for years has been labor-union domination, bearing fruit in labor-union disturbance, labor-union boycotts, labor-union riots, labor-union officeholders, labor-union corruption, dishonesty, grafting, blackmailing and about every sort of misconduct and crime that one can imagine. The leaders of these unions are at best ignorant, unreasonable, tyrannous trouble-makers, inciters of strikes, fomenters of riots, conspirators against honest business men and plotters of murder. Many of them are known to have been guilty of crimes whose due punishment would land them in prison. Time and time again they have been proven ex-convicts.

In spite of these facts so well known, so long standing, no leader or political party has arisen in San Francisco with the clearness of vision, the honesty of purpose or the courage of heart to take cognizance of the conditions and strike a blow for the deliverance of the city from these malign influences which have wrought all the mischief of the past years. Good men have come to the front and led their aid to rid the city of troubles and disgraces. Reform movements have swept over the community. But so far every leader and every reform movement has lacked either the brains to comprehend the real source of the evil or the courage of heart to dare try to stem the strong tide supporting the men who were responsible for all the wrongs, political and industrial, which were afflicting the community.

A millionaire business man comes to the surface to purify the city; but he and the municipal department of justice, from their first move to their last, have been holding intercourse with the men responsible for all the trouble and all the disgrace from which the city has suffered. If it had been their deliberate aim to secure these scoundrels from punishment and to safeguard them in the enjoyment of their ill-gotten gains, the portico could not have been more complete.

A man of high repute, of undeniably high purposes, is made Mayor and the hoodling Superiors are induced to resign on consideration that they shall not be prosecuted nor deprived of their stealings, and a new board is put in place. One of Dr. Taylor's first acts in office is to appoint one of the ringleaders of the unions, one of the most bloodthirsty fomenters of riots in the whole body, to an important place in the city government.

A young lawyer gains control of the primaries, plays his political cards so shrewdly after using a "cold deck" in the deal, that he gets himself nominated for Mayor. He is a "reformer," but his first act is to make a bid for the support of the elements of society from which all the troubles of all kinds for ten years have come.

It seems to make no difference what the party name, what the pretenses, what the affiliations of the organization or man, all parties, all leaders, seem to be afflicted with the same purblind inability to see straight, or with the same lack of courage to do what is right, if they see it.

So the plight of the city is hopeless until some man of real self-negation, of power to think straight and courage to do right, comes to the front, attacks these evil influences at the fountain-head with an invincible determination to fight the battle for industrial freedom and equal rights to a finish on right lines no matter how long it takes. Such a man must have confidence in the general public, and if he shows that he means what he says he will not be disappointed.

Let some one put this to the test and pursue his purpose undiminished by temporary defeat and he will win. Support will come to him from many and unexpected quarters. Much strength will come from labor-union men who will be most pleased, because most benefited, by deliverance from the tyranny of their own bosses.

It is conceivable that among the tens of thousands of members of these unions there are not many thousands who would rejoice to be made free from the thralldom from which they suffer under bloody conspirators like Mike Casey, rousing marplot like Dick Cornelius, cunning self-seekers like P. H. McCarthy, jailbirds like Trelmes, crooks like Schmitt, and robbers like Ruef?

In the name of San Francisco, loved as the old city has been by thousands, shamed as she is by these harpies who feed on her substance and foul her reputation, we call for a man ready to sacrifice his own interests, free from the petty ambition of the place-hunting politician, steadfast enough of purpose to persevere and with unflinching confidence in the general public to put this to the test. The man who does it will win, and with his victory he will make for himself a great name in the history of his city, State and country.

STATSMAN AND CHURCHMAN AT SPORT.

Old Galileo's saying, "the world moves," is still true. Not only the physical sphere flies through space in a wide course and at a wild rate of speed the resultant of at least four fold forces which pull it each in a different direction, but the moral world as surely moves in its course the result of more various forces than those which sway the material globe. Just as the orbit of the earth is fixed, so the orbit of the moral movement is always on the whole to better, happier, more wholesome conditions for mankind.

Picture that scene in Washington some day this week where a tennis court will be the arena in which the President of the richest, most intelligent and in most ways the greatest nation on earth will in strenuous contest try for physical mastery over a dignified prelate of an ancient and conservative church, the bishop of the richest and most populous see in all Christendom. Does not the moral world there mark progress?

The later Louis of France were "sports," but not at tennis or golf. Think of Charles I. of England playing tennis, or Charles II. wasting his time at other diversions than those which made the "day monarch" famous. Picture the traditional English prelate in shovel hat, knee breeches, silk apron and pumps with silver buckles, and hang by him as a pendant his lordship of London eating a sandwich for luncheon in a "tram" rattling through East Ham and halting at an old "soak" and "bum" with a hearty "Hello! old chap," or in white coverings to his nether limbs, spiked shoes, sleeves rolled up, hat off and hair flying wide, serving tennis balls too swift for our "rough-rider" President to play. Who will stand up and say that the moral world stands still?

Who will not endorse the Tennysonian philosophy, "Ring out the old, Ring in the new" in the "ways and manners" of Presidents of the republic and prelates of the church? Picture the cool, bracing fall air on the banks of the Potomac and the strenuous President and the strenuous bishop with flushed cheeks and excited glance knocking the tennis balls back and forth. Consider well the flow of red blood in their veins, the tonic of sunlight in heart and brain, and the soundness of body coming from such play, harmonizing with the soundness of mind needed for statesmanship and for the pulpit.

So in the "brave days of old" the poet Horace and a company of great men from Rome in the summer stretches went out on the broad stretches of the Campagna and "swatted" a ball as eagerly as any schoolboy. And the men who carried the Roman eagles to the ends of the earth, who framed Roman laws, colonized the world and made her lyrics, her orators statesmen, consuls, and triumphators were not weaklings nor "molly-coddles."

The educators are finding out that most of the dullness, insubordination, and indispotion to study manifested by schoolboys and girls is the result of physical defects, which may be removed by proper remedies, chief among which is outdoor exercise and diversion.

Here along many lines we find the moral world is moving. Every advance is to better things, to saner, more wholesome things, to conditions that make for better health, for more human ways of living, for closer touch of class with class, more sympathy of class with class, more righteousness in government and more helpfulness in religion, with poor health, mere politics and dry theology all left far in the rear as the world swings all the time into "the better day."

THE APPRENTICESHIP SYSTEM.

A dispatch from Indiana recently noted a case of revival of the old idea of apprenticeship, a widower having placed his 10-year-old son with a farmer to remain until he reached the age of 21 years. The recorded apprenticeship agreement provided that the boy is to be taught farming, and at the end of this term is to receive $200. He is to be fed, clothed and properly educated. In return, the lad promises his master that he will not use tobacco in any form, and not drink intoxicating liquors of any kind. He is also not to gamble, or play any game of chance.

It would not be a bad thing if the apprenticeship idea should come into more general popularity again. In olden times—and still, today, in many countries, such as Germany—boys were taught a regular trade of some kind in their years of apprenticeship. Instead of being paid half as much as a skilled mechanic, as soon as they leave school, their parents or guardians had to pay for their apprenticeship. On the other hand, when they were through with their mechanical tuition, they knew something thoroughly. Before starting out for themselves, they were expected to make some clever piece of work—a "masterpiece"—to show their ability.

By the present system—or rather lack of system—thousands of young men are brought up without any particular knowledge of a trade or calling. Instead of being "brung up" they are just "drug up." This is one of the reasons why so many drift on the road and become tramps. The possession of the knowledge of a craft is one of the best of assurances against criminality.

One of the most serious evils of the labor-union system, as it exists to-day, is the bar it places upon opportunities for boys to learn useful trades, and thus become respected members of society, instead of drifting into loose or evil ways. Let us have a revival of the apprenticeship system.

THE TROUBLE WITH MR. WU TING-FANG.

[From the Washington Star of Sept. 1.] China should think twice before deciding to send Wu Ting-fang back to the post as her representative. Her interests here are all the greater by reason of the new situation in the East, and they should be in the hands of a man altogether acceptable to the American people.

In the earlier days of his sojourn in Washington Mr. Wu was something of a toast. So much of a toast, indeed, as hardly entitled him to the name of diplomat. His English was good, his manner brisk and unconventional, his curiosity boundless, and his industry tireless. He went everywhere, and dipped into nearly everything. He became a source of entertainment. He was a man apart in the diplomatic world. What the representative of no other foreign power at this capital would have thought of doing, or been excused for doing, Mr. Wu did with the blindest air imaginable. He made his own rules, and this government good-naturedly allowed them.

He had, however, begun to pall on the public taste when his government recalled him. He returned home charged with the task of securing the repeal of the Chinese exclusion law, or even its modification, and not long after he was widely attributed to the influence of Mr. Wu. People said that the wily gentleman was putting into practice at home one of the secrets he had learned while sojourning with us. And some people smiled and declared that Mr. Wu was a very clever fellow. Let that compliment stand. Mr. Wu may be a very clever fellow, but in the circumstances noted the fellow would have thought of doing, or been excused for doing, Mr. Wu did with the blindest air imaginable. He made his own rules, and this government good-naturedly allowed them.

Let that compliment stand. Mr. Wu may be a very clever fellow, but in the circumstances noted the fellow would have thought of doing, or been excused for doing, Mr. Wu did with the blindest air imaginable. He made his own rules, and this government good-naturedly allowed them.

MEN AND THINGS OVER THE SEAS.

King Carlos, Scientist.

King Carlos of Portugal is passionately fond of the sea and has applied himself to the study of oceanography with much more thoroughness and sincerity than Prince Albert of Monaco. The latter contents himself with employing scientists and exploiting their results for his personal glory. But King Carlos is his own scientist and pursues his researches himself, not with any idea of fame, but mainly for the purpose of promoting the welfare of the large population along the storm-bound coast of Portugal that derives its livelihood from fishing. No one in the acquaintance of the migratory habits of the various fish that figure in the fishing industry of Portugal, indeed, knows more of everything pertaining to fishes and their habitat, not only along the Portuguese coast, but also along the eastern portion of the Atlantic Coast, is something phenomenal, and, besides inventing a number of new and most useful appliances for the fishing industry, he likewise spends much of his spare time in placing them at the disposal of the communities of fishermen along the coast.

British Postal Telegraph.

Last year the British postoffice telegraph was operated at a loss of over £1,000,000, although the receipts for the year were the largest ever known, reaching a total of $3,575,850. A review covering thirty-seven years is included in the return, and shows that the total loss on the service during that period has amounted to $7,259,125.

A Tunnel Canal.

The Minister of Public Works in France and the Canal-General of Bridges and Highways have recently approved the expenditure of over $1,000,000 for the construction of a tunnel canal four and one-half miles long, seventy feet wide and forty-three feet above the water level to the vaulted roof, to connect the port of Marignac, situated directly with the Rhone River. The great width of this tunnel will permit the passing of two barges, it will be completely lighted by electricity, and possess a small railroad running along its side. This great engineering feat it to be finished in seven or eight years and will necessitate the extraction of 1,250,000 cubic yards of rock and earth.

A Great Jew.

Dr. Max Simon Nordau, who has just resigned his office as second president of the Zionist congress at the Hague, is one of the greatest of living Jews. He has had a most interesting career, and has shown as author, doctor, philosopher, essayist and critic. The son of Rabbi Susskind, he was born in Budapest in 1849, and changed his name to Nordau at an early age. After studying to great advantage at the Budapest university, he took his M. D. degree in Paris, where he is now settled, and rapidly came to the front as a writer of extraordinary merit. Among his numerous works, probably the one which caused the greatest sensation was "Degeneration." In spite of his fifty-eight years, Dr. Nordau is still a prodigious worker, most of his writing being done between the hours of 6:30 p.m. and midnight. He is a man of very simple tastes, who neither smokes nor drinks, and his favorite recreations are fencing and swimming.

Become a Vegetarian.

Vegetarianism has been given an impetus by the conversion of Lady Paget by the conversion of Lady Paget, a well-known English noblewoman, to the vegetarian diet. Since her terrible accident in the elevator at her London house, Lady Paget has been a partial cripple, and she believes that, now she is compelled to be less active, a lighter diet is necessary. But until she adopted the vegetarian diet she was known to be a lover of table luxuries. Among prominent Englishmen who have renounced the meat diet are Admiral Lord Charles Boscawen, whose vegetarianism is hardly consistent with his blustery and virile personality; the Rev. Edward Lytton, headmaster of Eton and a great athlete; George Bernard Shaw, Gen. Booth, of the Salvation Army, and Pastor R. J. Campbell, the eloquent preacher. All these great workers and makers of a strenuous and brilliant career have adopted the vegetarian diet.

HOROSCOPE FOR THIS DAY.

Friday, September 27, 1935.

Good omens arise upon the eastern sky, and better face with moonlight. This is the 27th day of the moon's age, 29 days. Venus and Mars are in benefic aspect with the moon.

Open new places of business, especially retail shops. Undertake new things. Look for positions if in unemployment. Present work does not suit.

Salesmen this day should try customers whose business they failed to obtain heretofore. Seek favors from banks. Deal with merchants. Do not quarrel with lawyers or seek advice from them.

Travel for health begun. Promises success. Hire men for manual labor before noon.

At 5 o'clock p.m. herbs eaten will be potent. They are umbelliferous, such as, celery, artichoke, kidney wort, pepperwort, etc.

EVENTS IN LOCAL SOCIETY.

AN INNOVATION in social affairs was introduced yesterday, when Mrs. H. M. Bishop of No. 2627 Hoover street entertained with "A Day in the Country." The event was in compliment to Miss Pearl Seely, whose engagement to John Kingsley Macomber, Jr., has been announced. The guests took the car to Glendale, 1556 West Twenty-seventh street, where they will receive their friends after October 15.

Morning Musical.

The first of a series of morning musicals was given yesterday by Mrs. Nellie Hibler in Wilcox Hall, Hollywood. Patronesses included Mrs. C. J.

Enright, a niece of the bride, acted as ring-bearer.

Mr. Hadley a Guest.

Frank W. Hadley, interpreter at the American Embassy in Tokyo, Japan, is the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hadley, No. 1461 South Hope street. Mr. Hadley will leave for Japan Tuesday.

Notes and Personal.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Newberry have returned from their eastern trip. They are again at the Hotel Lankershim, where Mrs. Newberry will receive her friends. Mr. Newberry is much improved in health.

Mr. W. P. Story have returned from a trip to Montana and Yellowstone Park. They occupy apartments at Hotel Hayward.

Mrs. J. C. Lee and Mrs. Eugene Benson, sisters of Dr. W. L. Graves, left recently for their home in Montgomery, Ala. They were guests for two months at the home of Dr. Graves, No. 1047 South Figueroa street.

SUPPORT.
MASONIC HOME; BETTER BASIS.
HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS TO BE RAISED.

Systematic Financial Plan for Southern California Institution at East San Gabriel Put Well Under Way Yesterday—Association is Formed to Make Campaign for Funds.

The movement to place the Southern California Masonic Home on a systematic financial basis took shape rapidly yesterday.

A meeting, attended by Masters of the different lodges, or by persons delegated by them, was held in Masonic Hall on Hill street. A permanent organization was effected, and a large standing committee appointed to arrange a campaign for raising money.

The purpose is to relieve the managers of the Home from the grinding responsibility of scraping up money to support it.

It is not a matter of starting a new enterprise, as the Home is already in operation, and has been for several years. Quartered in the old East San Gabriel Hotel, with its palatial gardens, there could be no more ideal location or surroundings.

The trouble is that it has run along too smoothly. Many Masons in Southern California have hardly been brought to realize that the Home is the property of all these Masons. The fact that an association is the owner of the place in name has caused some Masons to lose sight of the fact that nearly every lodge is a member of the association.

The meeting yesterday was intended to call the attention of the main body of the Masons to the fact that the Home is the property of all, and that all the Masons of Southern California are responsible for its maintenance and support.

L. C. Gates and Frank G. Tyrrell addressed the meeting, and urged the prompt backing of the pocketbooks of all Masons.

James D. Long, of the board of directors of the Home, explained that the present plan is not due to the financial straits of the Home.

"There is not a dollar of indebtedness, but we want to get rid of the necessity of hounding people for money to support it."

He mentioned the fact that the plan of assessing each Mason $1 a year had been considered. It had been voted down, however, at a former meeting, in favor of raising a general fund of $100,000, the Home to be supported on the interest.

Much discussion ensued as to the best means of raising this.

The secretary reported that many Master Masons have notified him of the utter impossibility of getting $10 per capita from each lodge to raise the fund. This plan was also denounced at the meeting by various persons.

The general belief seemed to be at the meeting that the fund, once started, will be added to from time to time by bequests in wills, gifts, and other means.

Several men made strong speeches to the effect that the Masons must be made to realize that the Home is the property of the Masons, and not of a close corporation, before much money can be raised.

In order to make this quite plain, it was moved that a permanent organization be effected, with a representative from each lodge. This being done, H. H. Clark was elected president, and Herbert Cornish secretary of the association.

This organization will not take over the management of the Home, which will still be under the control of the present directors. The main object of the association will be to raise $100,000 for a fund to support the Home. A large special committee was appointed to ascertain the best plan of raising the money.

The Sierra Club is especially interested in the lecture to be given this evening in the auditorium of the Polytechnic High School by Herbert W. Gleason, mountain climber and interpreter of nature.

The members of the club will have the chance to see themselves as the stereopticon sees them, for many of the colored lantern slides depicting the fascinating and thrilling experiences of mountain climbing caught the Sierra folk on last summer's ramble. The lecture will deal with "Volcanic Peaks of the Coast."

BEEF MAN ENGAGED.

Major P. S. Carr of Oxnard will go to Corcoran to take charge of beef planting and harvesting operations. His work will begin at once, but he will not sever his connection with the American Beef Sugar Company until after the present campaign. He has been a field man for the Oxnard sugar plant and has had under his supervision a large part of the beets that have been grown at Oxnard in the last few years.

Hollywood Wedding.

Miss Agnes E. Locke and Arin M. Head were married recently at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Ianthie Locke of No. 501 Canton Way, Hollywood. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. McCunn, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Burbank. In the presence of a few relatives. The home was bright with smiles, Shasta daisies and asparagus ferns. The young people will spend their honeymoon at Coronado and La Jolla. Guests present were: Mrs. Cecil Wilcox, Mrs. Dundas, and Mrs. C. M. Wilcox. Merle Wilcox, Mrs. Cora B. Locke, Miss Bernice Locke, Mrs. Rhoda Lindemith, Miss Bertha Eldred of Joliet, Ill., Miss Elsie Lindemith and Miss Irma Lindemith.

To Wed This Week.

The wedding of Miss Anita L. Williams and James E. Ray of Compton will be solemnized this week. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Williams of Compton. At the conclusion of a trip to New York and other places of interest the young people will make their home in Long Beach.

Cotton Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Bowen of Royal street entertained last evening in celebration of their cotton-wedding anniversary. During the evening a delightful musical programme was presented. The home was uniquely decorated with cotton flowers, and scores for the wedding cards were kept on cards ornamented with cotton dolls. The guests included Mr. Gurney of New York, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick E. Sprinkman, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Cutler, Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Mann, Miss Esther Burrows, Miss Ida E. Bowen, Ernest L. Bowen, Mr. Boullenger, Miss Pearl Thornton, Albert Lechy, George Le Doux and Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Mason.

To Study in Berlin.

Miss Mollie Byerly Wilson and her mother, Mrs. Aletta E. Wilson, who left Los Angeles in May to visit relatives in Kansas and Maine, are at present in New York, whence they will sail tomorrow on the steamer "Pennsylvania" for Berlin, where Miss Wilson will continue her musical studies. For several years she was soloist in the Imperial Presbyterian Church. Before their return they will travel on the continent and in England.

Informal Luncheon.

Mrs. A. J. Taylor of No. 523 Valencia street entertained with an informal luncheon of six covers yesterday in honor of women who assisted her recently in entertaining the visiting press humorists. Covers were laid for Mrs. Walter M. Chase, Mrs. J. W. Taylor, Mrs. C. E. Lock, Mrs. Clara Satterwhite and Miss Irene Gilman.

Tashan-Clark Wedding.

Miss Katherine Tashan and John Clark were married yesterday morning at St. Agnes Church, Father Moloney, officiating. The music was in charge of Lewis Kerwin, who played the popular wedding marches. Miss Tashan, who is well known and popular, wore a pretty creation of white crepe de chene with which she wore a long tulle veil and carried a shower of white roses. The maid of honor, Miss Katherine Clark of Hollywood, was gowned in a shimmering white material and carried an arm bouquet of pink roses. A wedding breakfast was served at their own home, No.

Miss Mollie B. Wilson,
who will sail from New York tomorrow
for further musical study in Berlin.

Surprise Party.

Philip D. Colby of No. 256 West Avenue Fifty-two, was the guest of honor Wednesday evening at a pleasant surprise party given by a number of his friends, the occasion being the anniversary of his birthday. The affair was most unique, each guest being dressed as a child and refreshments being served from tiny tin buckets.

Home Wedding.

The wedding of Miss Ellen Enright and Edward Curay was solemnized one day this week at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. A. Enright, No. 1123 South Hill street. Miss Enright was attired in a gown of white and carried a cluster of white roses. Her sister, Miss Nora Enright, who assisted as maid of honor, also wore a white gown. She carried an arm bouquet of American Beauties. Dr. Miller was the best man. Little Adrienne

CHAPTER XXV.
COUNT ZAMOYSKI SLEEPS.
A glimmer of dawn daylight in the Count's bedroom troubled him while he slept and he drew the curtains with angry fingers. Down there in the dark streets the Cossacks watched the night-birds going home to bed and saw the Count's face in the light of the moon. If Sergius rested a moment at the window it was to mark the presence of these men and to take heart at it. And this is to say that few knew him in the social world had any notion of the life he lived apart from the world. Light and laughter and music were his friends in so far as they permitted him to forget the horrible or to deride it.
Here in this room of elegant shadows he was a different man indeed from the fine fellow of the opera and the haughty, haunted secret man for the sun. The brilliant scene but just quitted could now be bathed chiefly because he needed the anesthetic with which society could supply him. Pale and and inept in his movements, few had recognized the Sergius of the diplomatic world whose name had earned the warmest enthusiasm of harassed authority. Here a testimony to his success which bitterest enemy would not have denied him. None knew better than he

the day of reckoning had come for all who opposed revolution in Russia, none had anticipated that day with greater personal dread.

He closed the curtains, thankful that the Cossacks stood outside without hungering for sleep which had been to him so often lately. If he had any consolation of his thoughts, it lay in the comparative secrecy of his presented mission and the fact that today would accomplish its purpose. The girl

that he was a traitor to his country.
The world is too busy for the revolution, was his argument—the rich

frailties that they should put

a clumsy hand upon the buttons
of his intense silence. The girl

TIN CAN IDEAS.

FIGURES PROFIT NOT SO GREAT.

PASADENA HEALTH OFFICER ON GARBAGE PROJECT.

Estimates on Cost of Operation of Proposed System of Refuse Disposal Are Presented to Defend the Contemplated Charge of Fifty Cents Per Month Per Household.

Office of The Times, No. 10 South Raymond ave. PASADENA, Sept. 27.—City Attorney Wood is at work on the text of an ordinance that will give Charles S. Hill a franchise to erect an incinerator for all the garbage and refuse of the city. Hill will give a bond of at least $5000 to the city for the proper performance of the work.

While there has been some protest against many of the provisions, and there is likely to be some further argument in the Council on the subject, it is thought that the advocacy of Dr. Stanley P. Black, the health officer, will carry the matter through. There has been talk that the city will make a fine thing for the owner of the garbage plant, as his income would be about $2000 per month. Dr. Black has carefully collected from scores of cities the cost of garbage collection, and thinks that the city will not leave a large margin of profit.

It is estimated that one two-horse wagon and man can collect 100 cans per day. Collection of cans will be made twice a week from ever house in the city. On this basis the pay of a man and the cost of a team, interest on a $1000 plant, reserve of equipment in the way of horses and cans, will take all of this sum to carry on the plant, and the profit will have to be taken from the products of his incinerator for profit.

Taking matters on this basis, Dr. Black said yesterday: "I do not think that any other city in the country has received a better proposition. Mr. Hill will furnish to each house a can, properly closed, 3 feet high by 18 inches in the square. This will be taken away and renewed twice a week. When the full can is returned to the factory, and emptied a jet of hot water will be turned into them, and then they will be steamed, recovered and returned. In carrying the garbage through the city the cans will be closed. This is not all. Hill proposes to use his double-decked wagons, fitted to hold, each fifty-five of these cans. These will be entirely sanitary. Citizens now pay 65 cents per week for the removal of garbage upon a very unsanitary plan. They will save 12 cents per week, and for my part I can not see where any objection can come in, except that some people object to giving up the right to burn rubbish. The fire takes the oil out of the road, and the stench and smoke is abominable. We have no stench, and against it. This proposed law will correct all this, and if we are to keep Pasadena a clean city we must stop all this business."

Mr. Hill has been before the Council and the Sanitary Committee. He is anxious to get this contract, as he wants to demonstrate to Los Angeles what a good sanitary service it is. He claims that his experience as a salvage man for the Southern Pacific has taught him methods of disposing of garbage property and that he can make a profit out of the venture. City Attorney Wood is now figuring out the legal method of the lease of ten acres to the crematory and the proper consideration of the bond of from $5000 to $10,000.

COW GIRL IS SICK.

When the trial of Trelle Edna Harris was called yesterday before Judge H. H. Klamroth, the prisoner was reported dangerously sick at the County Hospital. Trelle, a young woman, who claims distinguished relatives in Iowa, and who got possession of two trunk checks at a Santa Fe station, secured the trunks in this city. They belonged to a party of negroes traveling west from Marietta, Ga. This girl spent last Tuesday in the City Jail.

Although when arrested and during her arraignment before Judge Klamroth, she showed signs of sickness, she called for Dr. A. D. S. McCoy, the Police Surgeon, that night. When the physician examined her and was prescribing treatment, the girl said she had a keen medical knowledge that Dr. McCoy asked her if she was not a medical graduate. This strange statement once admitted, she had studied medicine and graduated.

She does not seem to be more than 24 years old. Yet she has undoubtedly had experience of varied sort in the world. The charge that she rides horseback in male attire is not supported by any of the evidence. It is said that she has dainty spurred boots of Mexican pattern. She had no clothes of her own, except one cheap dress, and her hair was styled in a bob cut. All other clothing in her possession belonged to the negroes, who were robbed.

Since Trelle was removed to the County Jail she has developed hemorrhages, and is now reported in a dangerous condition. The police here believe that the girl is a dangerous crook, who will bear watching. Her language to the constable here showed that she was intimate with prison discipline. When he took her to the County Jail, she made a sweeping inventory, and then jokingly remarked: "Oh, you have a lot of trunks here, and seemed to have her job picked out at once. She resolutely refused to tell the name of the constable from whom she got the trunk, and the police believe she handled the whole affair herself, and got away when she found that the negroes were put off the train at Las Vegas because of the loss of their railway tickets.

SUICIDE LIVED HERE.

Daniel Bulkeley, of No. 51 North Pasadena avenue, whose suicide at Avalon was reported here yesterday, was about 54 years old and an invalid. He resided here with two cousins, Lucy and Jennie Bulkeley. He was formerly a printer in Chicago and came here twelve years ago for his health. He was well liked by his neighbors. At times he acted as if his sickness were imaginary.

CALL ON RIPPER.

It seems tonight that there is no question about the bonds carrying. Of fifteen of the leading citizens of the city interviewed today, not one dissenter to the bond proposition was found.

All told the same story as City Clerk J. C. Hemingway, who said:

"I can't see anything but victory for the bonds. I have talked with a number of a quibble of years' standing, and of long, bitter factional feelings. I believe, the solution of the sewer problem on this city is in the hands of the city. The bonds will carry, I think."

EDITOR DEMURE.

Editor D. G. Holt of the Outlook approved Justice Stephens this afternoon, with attorney Ben B. Hunter, to have his preliminary examination in the suit for libel brought against him by Trustees Burke and Jones at the Attorney General's Office of Ocean Park. Mr. Hunter demurred to the complaint on the ground that the trustee's suit is a public offense. The court intimated that the point was well taken, and continued the case to October 3, to give time to the trustee's attorneys.

PULL FOR STORM DRAIN.

Glendale Citizens Take Action to Prevent Damage by Winter Rain.

OLENDALE, Sept. 26.—As previous efforts on the part of citizens and property owners of Glendale have failed to advise an adequate remedy for the control of storm waters from the city of Glendale, a petition containing 111 signatures was last night presented to the City Trustees, declaring the present conduit unsafe and a menace to the lives of school children in the vicinity of the conduit.

The petition asks that immediate action be taken to reconstruct the conduit, and that the city take the necessary steps to prevent damage to streets and private property, deeming that now is the proper time before the rains begin, and that such reconstruction is imperative, such as oiling, sidewalk and curbing, are going on.

The application asked for an underground conduit drain, east of the Verdugo road, and as near Sycamore Canyon and the original storm water conduit as possible, with a view of endeavoring to bring the water through the center of the city. The claim is made that the conduit can be built for $100,000, and that the city is causing little inconvenience to any one. An election is asked for to determine the question of issuing bonds to construct the conduit.

LEAPS TO DEATH IN SEA.

Pasadena Man With Pockets Weighted Jumps from Launch—Leaves Letters.

AVAILON, Sept. 26.—With his pockets weighted Dan Bulkeley of No. 13 North Pasadena avenue, Pasadena, dived to his death in the sea this morning.

Bulkeley engaged a boatman and the launch Adelaide to take him out to sea. The boatman said that Bulkeley stood up and told him he had left some money under the seat and that he would never be found as he had filled his pockets with rocks. He jumped off the launch and sank immediately.

The boatman returned to Avalon for aid and a doctor was called. Bulkeley was found floating in the water. He was turned to the place of the drowning. Jim Gardner also went out to try to find the body.

Dan Bulkeley was well known on the island, as he had been spending his summers here for the last twelve years. His home is in Pasadena where he lived with his cousins, Lucy Bulkeley and Jennie Bulkeley.

Every summer he and his two cousins were in the habit of occupying their tent home on the island. Bulkeley also had Mrs. Scott with them. As they were not well, Bulkeley was taken to the hospital. He was in good financial circumstances.

His cousins returned to Pasadena yesterday after a stay of three months on the island. The general expression of opinion is that Bulkeley was despondent on being left alone. The letters found in the boat were addressed to Lucy Bulkeley, Pasadena, J. L. Wegman, Avalon and one for the boatman.

The letter addressed to the boatman contained $5 for the use of the boat and instructed him to notify his lawyers in Chicago of his death. It was well written and legible. The letter addressed to J. L. Wegman was dated September 26 and contained a check for $15, dated September 26, also instructions in regard to taking down his tent and where to put everything, also telling him to send some things to his brother in Texas.

Glendale Citizens Take Action to Prevent Damage by Winter Rain.

OLENDALE, Sept. 26.—As previous efforts on the part of citizens and property owners of Glendale have failed to advise an adequate remedy for the control of storm waters from the city of Glendale, a petition containing 111 signatures was last night presented to the City Trustees, declaring the present conduit unsafe and a menace to the lives of school children in the vicinity of the conduit.

The petition asks that immediate action be taken to reconstruct the conduit, and that the city take the necessary steps to prevent damage to streets and private property, deeming that now is the proper time before the rains begin, and that such reconstruction is imperative, such as oiling, sidewalk and curbing, are going on.

The application asked for an underground conduit drain, east of the Verdugo road, and as near Sycamore Canyon and the original storm water conduit as possible, with a view of endeavoring to bring the water through the center of the city. The claim is made that the conduit can be built for $100,000, and that the city is causing little inconvenience to any one. An election is asked for to determine the question of issuing bonds to construct the conduit.

LEAPS TO DEATH IN SEA.

Pasadena Man With Pockets Weighted Jumps from Launch—Leaves Letters.

AVAILON, Sept. 26.—With his pockets weighted Dan Bulkeley of No. 13 North Pasadena avenue, Pasadena, dived to his death in the sea this morning.

Bulkeley engaged a boatman and the launch Adelaide to take him out to sea. The boatman said that Bulkeley stood up and told him he had left some money under the seat and that he would never be found as he had filled his pockets with rocks. He jumped off the launch and sank immediately.

The boatman returned to Avalon for aid and a doctor was called. Bulkeley was found floating in the water. He was turned to the place of the drowning. Jim Gardner also went out to try to find the body.

Dan Bulkeley was well known on the island, as he had been spending his summers here for the last twelve years. His home is in Pasadena where he lived with his cousins, Lucy Bulkeley and Jennie Bulkeley.

Every summer he and his two cousins were in the habit of occupying their tent home on the island. Bulkeley also had Mrs. Scott with them. As they were not well, Bulkeley was taken to the hospital. He was in good financial circumstances.

His cousins returned to Pasadena yesterday after a stay of three months on the island. The general expression of opinion is that Bulkeley was despondent on being left alone. The letters found in the boat were addressed to Lucy Bulkeley, Pasadena, J. L. Wegman, Avalon and one for the boatman.

The letter addressed to the boatman contained $5 for the use of the boat and instructed him to notify his lawyers in Chicago of his death. It was well written and legible. The letter addressed to J. L. Wegman was dated September 26 and contained a check for $15, dated September 26, also instructions in regard to taking down his tent and where to put everything, also telling him to send some things to his brother in Texas.

A good-natured spirit if rivalry pervaded the affair, and no serious injuries are reported.

CALL ON RIPPER.

It seems tonight that there is no question about the bonds carrying. Of fifteen of the leading citizens of the city interviewed today, not one dissenter to the bond proposition was found.

All told the same story as City Clerk J. C. Hemingway, who said:

"I can't see anything but victory for the bonds. I have talked with a number of a quibble of years' standing, and of long, bitter factional feelings. I believe, the solution of the sewer problem on this city is in the hands of the city. The bonds will carry, I think."

EDITOR DEMURE.

Editor D. G. Holt of the Outlook approved Justice Stephens this afternoon, with attorney Ben B. Hunter, to have his preliminary examination in the suit for libel brought against him by Trustees Burke and Jones at the Attorney General's Office of Ocean Park. Mr. Hunter demurred to the complaint on the ground that the trustee's suit is a public offense. The court intimated that the point was well taken, and continued the case to October 3, to give time to the trustee's attorneys.

VENICE, Sept. 24.—But three days more for the campaign on the wall of the corporation fight, and both sides are improving every moment of time. As the day for election draws nearer the pressure on the speakers is increasing. The speakers are promised that will enliven the meeting.

The anti will meet on Ocean Front in front of the Decatur. At this meeting the speakers will all be local men. The "anti" will, promise some surprises for the disunionists.

BURGULARY.

Burglars entered the home of L. R. Garrett, on the Strand, near Playa del Rey, last night. The only valuable thing taken was a purse containing $100. The burglar was not seen, but has not been able to get any clue to the thief.
